Interior Health targets high-transmission neighbourhoods

IH Wide – Interior Health is accelerating COVID-19 immunizations for people aged 30 and over in two communities seeing high-transmission: the District of Summerland and the Rutland neighbourhood in Kelowna.

People living in these communities born in 1991 or earlier and are registered to get vaccinated will soon be invited to book appointments.

Everyone throughout Interior Health is encouraged to register as soon as possible so no one misses their earliest opportunity to book a vaccine appointment. Register online at www.getvaccinated.gov.bc.ca or by calling 1-833-838-2323.

Notifications to book appointments will be sent to all registered residents based on their postal codes in Summerland and Rutland in the coming days.

To check eligible postal codes visit: <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/covid-19/vaccine/neighbourhood#communities>

More information on registration and booking is available at: news.interiorhealth.ca/news/covid-19-vaccines/.
