4 Months: Tips for My Healthy Growth and Development

Physical and Social / Emotional Development

- I can lift my head almost fully, roll over from my front to my side and sit with my arms propped.
- I need many chances to play on my tummy while I'm awake.
- Give me small, but safe things to hold like a rattle. Try again if I drop them.
- I'm not ready for screen time before I'm 2 years old. My brain is still developing and grows through play.
- Copy the sounds and expressions I make and I will copy yours! This is "Serve and Return" and is helping me build my brain.
- I feel secure when you hold me. You won't spoil me.

Safety

- Keep me in a rear-facing car seat for every trip until I'm at least 1 year old and weigh 10 kg (22 lbs). If the manufacturer's weight-limit allows, keep me rear-facing longer. Don't rush to turn me forward-facing too soon. The back seat is safest for me.
- I can roll so don't leave me alone where I can fall or get stuck.
- Protect me from burns. Set the heater on your water tank to 49°C (120°F). Keep hot drinks away from me.
- Never leave me alone in the bath, not even for a moment.
- I'm starting to put everything in my mouth now. I can choke on anything smaller than the inside of a toilet roll tube.
- My growing body needs fresh air; keep me away from second-hand smoke and vapour from tobacco, cannabis and vapour products.

Behaviours

- I will cry less now that I'm getting older. But remember when I do, never shake or jiggle me.
- I need 12 to 16 hours of sleep each day, including naps.
- Start a bedtime routine with me such as a warm bath, rocking or singing and quiet time. This routine lets me know that sleep is coming.
- My brain is developing quickly so I may be easily distracted especially during feeding. I need lots of time to feed during the day so I sleep more at night.

Healthy Smiles

- Once daily wipe my gums with a clean damp cloth.
- If I don't have my first tooth yet I soon will. When I do, change from a cloth to a baby-sized toothbrush with a grain-of-rice-sized bit of fluoride toothpaste.
- Give me a clean chilled teething ring or wet face cloth to chew on instead of teething gels or cookies.

Infant Feeding

- Breastmilk is the only food I need until I'm about 6 months old and continues to be important for 2 years or more.
- Follow my cues for when and how long to feed me.
- No matter how you feed me, you can use feeding times to build a close and loving bond with me.
- Wait to offer me solid foods until I'm about 6 months old.
- I'm ready for solids when I can:
 - hold my head up,
 - sit-up and lean forward,
 - watch for, open my mouth and close my lips around a spoon,
 - bring food to my mouth with my hands, and
 - let you know if I'm full. For example, turn my head away.
- Discuss with my healthcare provider about food allergy and whether I may be at risk.

Vision, Hearing and Language

- Be face to face with me and respond to my eye gaze, sounds and gestures.
- Good hearing is important so I can learn. My hearing can be tested at any age.
- I enjoy it when you share books, nursery rhymes and songs with me every day.
